Presenter

Chris Impellitteri - Director of Research & Development | The Water Tower

Summary:

This seminar will cover a brief overview of The Water Tower, a 501(c)3/(c4) non-profit institution dedicated to providing utilities with research results, new technologies, and training resources for all things water. An update on PFAS issues will be provided including water and solid waste-related regulations, opinions on what these developments mean for utilities, and future challenges.
